

Moose Puzzle!

Cut along the heavy, black lines, and fold along the dots. The lined-pattern areas are to be cut out, but it works better if you fold first and then cut. Be sure the ears are separated. The black dot is cut with a standard-sized hole punch; I roll the star-shaped plugs up and unfold them after threading them through the holes. Fold the tail up after cutting out the body. Put the head on the body first, then the legs, and then the antlers. The little tabs on the antlers are to be folded sideways, and then curl the antlers with your fingers.

At least that's how I did it...

As with all my downloads so far, this thing is a little buggy but I'm tired of working on it.

Enjoy!
